~by John Freeland - Heading to the South Bay Area and looking for a hands free ride? Try the ACE Train, the Altamont Commuter Express. ACE runs three commuter trains each weekday morning starting in Stockton, with Central Valley stops in Lathrop/Manteca and Tracy. A midday train leaves Stockton at 9:30 a.m. Stops in the South Bay area include Fremont, Great America, with the run ending in San Jose. Total ride time is just over two hours. The train’s front passenger car has Wi-Fi internet connections. There are also designated quiet cars so passengers may rest during the commute.

Established in 1998, ACE has operating costs of 12 million dollars that are paid from various state, federal, and local taxes, as well as fare revenue. It has an 80% on-time rating that it hopes to improve. The train runs primarily on Union Pacific track. It has about 3200 riders each week day, or 1600 riders each direction. Currently, ACE stops in Pleasanton, and riders wishing to get to BART need to take a short shuttle ride to the BART station. The San Joaquin Regional Rail Commission that operates ACE is looking to see if it can route the ACE train so that in the future it makes a direct connection with BART in Pleasanton. The commission is also looking at additional corridors to the Bay Area, including one from Stockton to Oakland, and another from Merced to Sacramento. For more information, including the ACE train schedule, go to www.acerail.com.

Eight Reasons to take the ACE train:

- Your Sanity
Gain free time while you travel to read, relax, and move about in clean and spacious train cars
- Save Money
With the high cost of Fuel, you could save $25 - $50 per day with the average ACE fare only costing $8-$12 per day
- Easy Connectivity
Easy and FREE connection to shuttles at most stations and to BART in Dublin
- FREE WiFi Onboard
stay connected while you’re on the go
- Take Your Bike
Convenient Bicycle Storage – on and off in just a few steps
- Superb Customer Service
Helpful and dedicated customer service both onboard and via phone
- Make Some New Friends!
ACE is known for having the friendliest passengers anywhere
- ACE Train Test Drive
The best promotion for new passengers anywhere! 5 free days to try the train out with No obligation
