Dan Gamel RV

~by John Freeland - Last week we ventured out to Dan Gamel RV for a vocational meeting. Dennis, the consignment manager for Dan Gamel RV, told us that Dan got his start in the RV business by working for Venture Out RVs in Bakersfield. Once Dan helped that organization grow and succeed, he realized he could do the same on his own.

In 1977 Dan opened a used RV business in Fresno. From those small beginnings the company has grown to seven locations in the Central Valley of California, and two in Arizona. What Dennis didn't tell us is that in 2005 Dan sold his business to a key employee and associate. For more on the company's history, check out their website at www.gamel.com/ Dennis says that people who take short trips most likely would prefer a towable, such as a fifth wheel. For those folks who plan weeks of travel throughout the United States, an RV is the way to go. RVs come with gas engines, or diesel. The diesel is about $60,000 more, but adds greater torque for those mountain roads. The diesel engine will last much longer, getting 400,000 to 475,000 miles compared to a gas engine of 150,000 to 175,000 miles. Dan Gamel is the nation's largest dealer of Fleetwood RVs. Dennis can help you find what best suits your needs. You can reach him at 209-545-5535.

1. Is it the truth?
