~by John Freeland - We were honored to have District Governor Janine McClanahan, and her husband Jim as our guests last week.

Janine was born in California, and worked as a flight attendant for United Airlines. In this job she developed a love for travel. Thirty-one years ago she opened Janine's Travel Service in Modesto.

Janine is a member of the Rotary club of Modesto, where she is also secretary-Treasurer. She describes Rotary as an organization of professional men and women who work together to improve the lives of others. Membership in Rotary provides an opportunity for fellowship, fun, personal growth, meeting people you otherwise would not, and is a vehicle for community and international service.

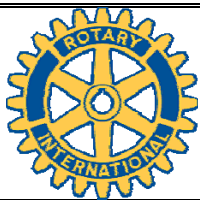

For our district, Janine asks that we focus on adding new members to our club. Additionally, she has designated the last Saturday in April (25th) as a Rotarian work day. Janine says this was started by Rotarians in Southern California. The idea is for each club to pick a project, large or small, and perform it that day. In doing so, we will be participating with hundreds of Rotary clubs and thousands of Rotarians to serve others.

Janine also spoke of RI President Lee's goal to perform projects that will reduce childhood mortality. President Lee has asked that we continue to pursue health, water and literacy projects to improve the lives of children here and in other countries. We wish Janine the best of luck during her year as our District Governor.

Four Avenues of Service

The term “Four Avenues of Service” refers to the four elements of the Object of Rotary: Club Service, Vocational Service, Community Service, and International Service.

Although the Avenues of Service are not found in any formal part of the constitutional documents of Rotary, many Rotarians use this concept to describe the primary areas of Rotary activity.

Club Service involves all of the necessary activities Rotarians perform to make their club function successfully.

Vocational Service describes the opportunity each Rotarian has to represent the dignity and utility of one’s vocation to the other members of the club, as well as the responsibility of the club to undertake projects related to such areas as career planning, vocational training, and the promotion of high ethical standards in the workplace.

Community Service pertains to those activities that Rotarians undertake to improve the quality of life in their community. It frequently involves assistance to youth, the aged, the disabled, and others who look to Rotary as a source of hope for a better life.

The fourth Avenue of Service, International Service, describes the many programs and activities that Rotarians undertake to advance international understanding, goodwill, and peace. International service projects are designed to meet humanitarian needs of people in many lands. When a Rotarian understands and travels down the four Avenues of Service, the Object of Rotary takes on even greater meaning.
